OneAsia Deploys Appcara's App360 Appliance PRO for its Cloud

OneAsia's Cloud Orchestrator accelerates enterprises' application to the cloud

HONG KONG, April 7, 2015 - OneAsia, the leading IT services, cloud solutions and data centers services provider in Asia, today announced that it has deployed Appcara's App360 Appliance PRO, the state-of-the-art multi-cloud and application automation solution, into OneAsia's data centers to offer Cloud Orchestrator solutions across Asia .

Cloud Orchestrator is a cloud management system that allows enterprises to move applications into a virtualised infrastructure. Charles Lee, Founder & CEO of OneAsia said, "The Cloud Orchestrator, which is the key enabler for OneAsia's latest offer OneCloud, seamlessly extends the traditional onsite IT infrastructure into the cloud. This allows enterprises to rapidly deploy, efficiently manage and simplify the migration of applications into the cloud. This is a guaranteed end-to-end service to our customers." Cloud Orchestrator's end-to-end cloud management offers standardised provisioning, on-going support and maintenance and application migration for businesses.

The key advantages of OneAsia's Cloud Orchestrator include:

Speedup virtualised infrastructure for server connectivity, VM, OS and Apps

- Standardised user and administration experience
- Carrier neutral connectivity
- Cloud and Hypervisor Neutral
- Centralised patch management at all layers

With OneAsia's trans-Pacific networks, world-class data centers and cloud services, OneAsia's Cloud Orchestrator offers enterprises tremendous flexibility and simplicity in migrating the business critical application workloads into the cloud.

OneAsia will have a physical presence to demonstrate Cloud Orchestrator at the upcoming Intel Developer Forum (IDF) 2015 on 8-9 April, 2015. The booth will be located at booth #716 at the Sheraton Futian Shenzhen (Fuhua Rd, Futian District Shenzhen, Guangdong 518048).
